In the group were Annette McIntosh, Kay Friend, Susan Johnson, Sylvia Jones, Effie Lou Keen, Ladora Crosby, Dorothy Hatten, Harlene Williams, Brenda Carter, Kathleen Wilson, Jane Ryals, Cynthia Friend, Nancy Thomas, Judy Cunningham, Geraldine Upthegrove and Jo Ann Darden.

The girls and their two chaperones boarded the crack FEC-ACL train, Miami, at Stuart Sunday afternoon on the trip to the Nation's Capital, arriving in Washington at 10:10 a. m. Monday and while there they made their headquarters at the Statler Hotel.

Among the sights they saw, through arrangements by the Atlantic Coast Line Railroad, were the U. S. Naval Academy at Annapolis, Md., George Washington's home at Mt. Vernon, the New National Museum, the Smithsonian Institute, the National Gallery of Art, the Washington Monument, the Glen Echo Amusement Park and the National Zoo. While in Washington they were greeted by their Congressman, Rep. Dwight Rogers, who gave the girls a peek at some of the "behind the scenes" activities of the federal government.

On Thursday the girls were given an unexpected treat when they were taken to New York for a five-hour tour of that famous city.

The girls are returning home this Friday afternoon, arriving in Stuart on the ACL's East Coast Champion train at 1:12 p. m. Needless to say it was a thrilling trip for every one of the girls.

McCarty Has Many Appointments As Result Of Session

TALLAHASSEE—The Florida Legislature left a bunch of "political plums" in Gov. Dan McCarty's pantry and made most of those he passed out in January a lot juicier.

The Legislature granted sweeping pay raises to most officials under the governor and created several new jobs which, although they carry no substantial compensation, will provide a certain amount of political prestige for the appointee.

New offices which the Legislature created for the governor to fill include:

Two new memberships on the State Milk Commission; nine memberships on the revamped State Livestock Sanitary Board; a five-member State Turnpike Authority; two additional memberships on the State Tuberculosis Board; a three-member advisory commission on alcoholism and a judicial council to study Florida's court system.

The governor already has named the Livestock Board and it will meet in Tallahassee tomorrow to organize.

He has indicated he will appoint the Turnpike Authority, and additional Milk Commission and TB board members this week or next.

The Legislature also gave McCarty a $3,000 annual raise for which he didn't ask. The governor says he will give it to charity.

The biggest of the pay raises, which go into effect July 1, was a $4,000 increase raising State Road Board Chairman Richard Simpson to $12,000 a year. Simpson also may be named to one of the posts on the Turnpike Authority. The law provides that two of the five members shall be members of the Road Board.

Road Department members were given pay increases from $2,800 to $3,600 a year.

State Auditor Bryan Willis and Budget Director Harry Smith were upped to $10,000 a year, and most "little cabinet" officials, including the beverage director, conservation commissioner, hotel and motor vehicle commissioners, were given raises to $9,000 a year. State parole commissioners were increased from $6,500 to $7,500 a year.

The Legislature also granted pay increases to officials under the cabinet in whose selections the governor has a voice. They include Coordinator of Institutions Terry Lee, and Public Safety Director H. N. Kirkman who were raised to $9,000 a year.

Raises granted officials named by boards subject to the governor's control include the director of the Improvement Commission, who was increased to $8,500; the state veterinarian and executive director of the TB Board, who were hiked to $9,000; state forester and park director who were given $8,000; and executive secretary of the Board of Control who was increased to $10,000.

The Legislature also was liberal with cabinet officials who are elected by the people and not subject to appointment by the govern-nor. Their pay was increased from $10,000 to $12,500 annually. And the three elected state utilities commissioners were raised to $10,000 a year.

Cinematic Chatter

By Malcolm Miller

Hello everybody! In 1933, Universal Pictures, in a concerted quest for new film personalities, opened its gates to a group of young acting hopefuls with plans to develop one or two stars through a program of dramatic training. The fellow that lasted longer than the others but still failed was a broad-shouldered blond athlete named Alan Ladd. Nineteen years later, however, he was back on the same studio lot, only this time he was drawing one of Hollywood's largest salaries.

That training program was invaluable," Ladd recalls, "and more studios should revive it today." Ladd's struggle for acting recognition after his first failure was rugged, to say the least. The depression was on and survival for Alan meant digging ditches, selling cash registers, hustling hamburgers, selling newspaper ads and writing a newspaper column. Born in Hot Springs, Arkansas, son of a public accountant, Ladd came to North Hollywood, Calif., with his family when he was eight. While attending North Hollywood High School he distinguished himself as an athlete, starring on the track team as a dash man and shot putter and, in swimming, setting a 50-yard free style interscholastic record that stood on the record books for many years. During his senior year, he had his first brush with acting as he played the role of Koko in the school's annual operetta, "The Mikado." It was from this performance that he won his chances to study dramatics at Universal. His first big break for stardom came with "This Gun For Hire," with Veronica Lake. See you at the movies—Mal.

Heard About the Electric Weather Predictor?

Squint Smith built up quite a reputation last month by predicting the weather. What he said usually came true.

It got so that folks would sit around his little Antique Shop just to get his opinion.

Last Monday, though, he said he didn't know what the weather was going to be like next day. That surprised us and when we asked what happened, Squint said, "Slipped up on my electric bill and was turned off. I'll get to my radio again tomorrow though." Squint had been guessing the weather over the radio—just like anyone else!

From where I sit, that's the way it goes with some "experts." They often don't have any more inside information than you can get for yourself. Like those who "know" cifer is the only thirst-quencher after a day's work. Far as I'm concerned, I'll take a temperate glass of beer. But—I won't try to "predict" your choice for you.

A Korean veteran returns; a loved one greets him at the dock; news cameras record the happy event. Eight minutes after the photograph is developed and rushed to the press picture bureau, it's in the veteran's home town across the continent—via the magic of telephoto.

Developed by the Bell System, telephoto flashes news photographs over telephone circuits to press associations and newspapers all over the Nation.

The lives of all Americans are enriched by such modern miracles as telephoto, the teletypewriter, and transmission of network television. These advancements came about through years of research by telephone scientists and engineers. This continuing research is one reason America has the most and best telephone service in the world.

McCarty's Action On Racing Bill Is Commended

MIAMI—Praise is being received from all over Florida for Gov. Dan McCarty's veto of the horse-track-de-rotation bill, a bill which would have cost the counties and old people millions of dollars in revenue, it is reported here by the state racing commission office.

"Under no circumstances can we afford to disturb, endanger or jeopardize an arrangement that has been so productive of substantial income to the State and its people," the veto message said, in explaining that the three Miami horse tracks had turned in $12,440,000 in revenue this year alone. The Governor's veto was upheld by the Florida Senate by an overwhelming 27-7 vote.

Under the present arrangement, tracks with three different sized tracks with three different sized operations in the Miami area to fit the three different sized winter tourist periods. In support of this, Governor McCarty pointed out, "The consistent increase in public revenues from these three tracks underscores the fact that under the existing system they are in a healthy condition and are producing good results for themselves, the state and its people."

The rotation bill provided for the three tracks to alternate the three racing periods—a proposal the Governor found was against "the welfare and best interests of the people of Florida beyond any measure of doubt."

It is estimated that the loss in taxes from rotation would more than offset the additional revenue the State will receive from the recent increase in taxes on dog racing.

Of the proposal to rotate dates, the Governor continued, "I have not been shown by this experimental process a single dollar would be added to the State's revenue. The best that can be said is that it would offer a re-distribution of racing opportunity among the three tracks at great peril to the citizens of Florida. This legislation is speculative and experimental to an extreme that impels me to disprove it in public interest."

The Governor added, "The State Racing Commission unanimously agrees that the bill is a dangerous experiment."

The measure concerned (1) the Hialeah track, opened in 1925, and which has pioneered and developed Florida track; (2) Tropical Park, which came into the scene in 1931, and (3) Gulfstream, which has been running regularly since 1945. Under the rotation bill, Hialeah would be allowed to operate its regular late January-February dates only once every three years.

Cancer Laboratory Dedicated Lakeland

LAKELAND—A cancer research laboratory was dedicated at Florida Southern College last week in memory of A. P. Cooke, newspaper publisher of Plant City, who lost his life to the killer disease.

Mrs. A. P. Cooke, widow of the Florida newspaperman, unveiled the plaque at the College's Bio-Research Laboratory marking the formal establishment of the A. P. Cooke Memorial Cancer Laboratory.

A few minutes before, J. R. White, chairman of the A. P. Cooke Memorial Fund Committee, presented Dr. Boris Sokoloff, famed researcher and director of FSC's Bio-Research Laboratory, with a check for $2,820 for use in cancer research.

The fund was raised by friends and neighbors of the Plant City editor and establishment of the laboratory honoring his memory was aided by the Damon Runyon Memorial Fund for Cancer Research.

Cooke died of cancer last year. He wrote of his own affliction and of the need for research to find a cure for the great killer of mankind almost to the moment of his death. For his writings, he received the Florida Press Association Award and the University of Florida Public Service Citation.

Newspapermen played a leading role in today's impressive ceremony. Introductions were by Harris G. Sims, editor of the Lakeland Ledger, who stressed that it is an obligation of every Florida editor and writer to support the Cooke memorial; Russell Kay, corporate secretary of the Florida Press Association, who told of Cooke's articles and his valiant fight against the disease; Hampton Dunn, Tampa Times editor and George Burr, editor of the Winter Haven Herald, who spoke of Cooke's career as a newspaperman.

Pahokee Recreation Program Planned

The annual Summer Recreation Program, sponsored by the Palm Beach County Board of Public Instruction, will get under way at the Pahokee city park Monday, June 22, and will continue through July 31, according to Coach William D. Howard, program director.

All children, from 6 to 18 years, who plan to take part in the program are urged by Coach Howard to register at the earliest possible date during the first week.

Swimming classes will be organized immediately and instruction of these classes will begin on Tuesday at the municipal pool in the park. As many classes as is necessary to take care of the various groups of children who want to learn to swim or improve their swimming technique will be formed, and an American Red Cross junior life-saving course will be offered if enough children sign up for the course to make it worth while. Although the recreation program is primarily for children of school age, Howard plans to organize at least one swimming class for children under six years of age.

There will also be classes in tennis and archery and a wide variety of recreational activities, including badminton, table tennis, horseshoe pitching, volley ball, basketball and various table games, will be available.

A twilight softball league for boys will be organized, the game to be played in the afternoons from 4 to 5.

The hours of supervised recreational activities will be from 8 a. m. to 12 noon and from 1 to 5 p. m., Monday through Friday, while the six weeks' program is in progress. A definite schedule of classes and other activities will be posted on the bulletin board at the park by Coach Howard as soon as all classes are organized and the program gets under way.

Future notices of any changes in activities will appear both on the park bulletin board and in this newspaper.

Lewis also twisted his trucks over and was pinned beneath it by the steering wheel the second time. At first it was feared that he was badly injured, but he is improving fast and it is hoped he will soon be well again. The truck was torn up badly.

Jake Boyd, county engineer, visited the fifth commissioner district yesterday and conferred with Commissioner Sharp as to areas for which road maintenance work should be planned in connection with making up of the budget for the new fiscal year.

Mrs. Wilder's brother, E. P. Parker, and his wife and family have moved from Lakeland to Pahokee. They came Friday and expect to live in the little house in Arthur Rice's yard which the Smith family now occupies.

Canvass of the returns from the Everglades county commissioner district show that Willard Smith of Pahokee was nominated, although on Friday forenoon of last week as the paper was being prepared for printing, the report from the court house was that E. T. King of Torrey Island had won. The final figures show Mr. Smith to have 10 majority.

This means more money to you!

NOW YOUR U. S. SERIES E BONDS CAN EARN INTEREST
10 EXTRA YEARS

ALL YOU WISE and patriotic people who bought United States Series E Bonds ten years ago and have held them can benefit by this new law! For according to this law the bonds you expected to mature finally in 1952 can now continue to earn interest every year for ten more years—till 1962—without your even lifting a finger!

To get this extra money, there's absolutely nothing you have to do. Just hold your bonds and let them go on earning!

If you wish, you may still cash any Series E Bond at any time after you've owned it for sixty days. But you'll be better off to hold your bonds, just as you're better off to hold savings in any form.

First of all, as long as you don't cash your bonds, you don't have to pay income tax on the interest they earn. In the second place, cash in the pocket melts away fast—often with little or nothing to show for it. But cash in bond savings is always there—growing steadily toward the big sum which can buy something really worthwhile . . . And remember—the interest rate on Series E Bonds has been increased to 3% compounded semi-annually, when held to maturity.

So if you have bonds coming due, why not take advantage of your extra-income opportunity? Just sit back and let them go on making more money for you. And meanwhile keep adding to your cash savings by buying more U. S. Defense Bonds regularly—through the Payroll-Savings Plan where you work. It's the easy, systematic saving plan that's so helpful because it lets you save before you even draw your pay. Thousands on the Plan say it's the one sure way to save.

3 NEW MONEY-MAKING OPPORTUNITIES FOR YOU!

*New Series H, J, and K
Defense Bonds pay 2.76% to 3%!*

If you want to get the interest on your bonds in the form of current income, or if you want to invest more than the annual limit for E Bonds, ask at any Federal Reserve Bank or Branch about these new bonds:

SERIES H. A new current income bond, available in denominations of $500 to $10,000. Sold at par. Matures in 9 years 8 months and pays approximately 3% interest per annum if held to maturity. Interest paid semiannually by Treasury check. Annual limit, $20,000 maturity value. Issued only by Federal Reserve Banks and Branches and at the Treasury.

SERIES J. A new 12-year appreciation bond, available in denominations of $25 to $100,000. Sold at 77% of par value. Pays 2.76% compounded semiannually if held to maturity. Annual limit, $200,000 issue price jointly with Series K Bonds.

SERIES K. A new 12-year current-income bond in denominations of $500 to $100,000. Pays interest semi-annually by Treasury check at the rate of 2.76% per annum. Sold at par. Annual limit, $200,000 issue price jointly with Series J Bonds.
